

Got News?

We want to hear it!

What is your society doing these days? Please share your news with the rest of the science community through our newsletter.

The Science Leader was developed to help us communicate better with our members, alumni, supporters and member organizations. In addition to keeping you abreast of CSSP events and science news, we want to share news from our members and member organizations, but we can't do that without your help.

Please send story ideas, submissions for the next issue, and suggestions to Science Leader Editor Amber Allen at ScienceLeader@cssp.us or call (304) 755-7214.

We look forward to hearing from you!
